SENATORS DISCUSS THE CUBAN RECIPROCITY BILL

and Clay Participate in the Debate.

CAUCUS OF DEMOCRATS NO ACTION AT PRESENT MR. BRISTOW'S REPORT ONLY

Who Practically Agreed Not to Offer Any Amendments to the Measure.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.-The Senate spent more than five hours to-day discussing the Cuban reciprocity bill. Mr. Foster, of Louisiana, led the discussion and occupled the greater part of the day with an argument in opposition to the measure. He declared that its passage would greatly injure, if it did not destroy, the sugar-growing industry of the United States. "Cuba is competent within the life of the treaty,' said Mr. Foster, "to make all the sugar this country needs. It can make sugar cheaper, and with the reduction which is sure death of the beet industry and the certain death of the cane industry of my State. All the development in this country get capital to invest in beet sugar plants in the West in face of the showing that

Mr. Fairbanks inquired the relative cost of the production of sugar in Cuba, and of both cane and beet sugar in the United States. Mr. Foster gave the cost of sugar production in Cuba at from 1 cent to 11/2 of cane sugar production in Louisiana is estimated at 3 cents a pound and of beet sugar in the West at a slight increase over this figure. Mr. Fairbanks then asked if the sugar industry of Cuba would not in time inundate the industry of this country even without this tariff reduction. Mr. Foster replied that probably would be the result, but that the passage of this bill would only hasten it. Senator Depew, on the Republican side, and Senator Clay, on the Democratic side, supported the bill as a measure in the interest of both countries. Senator Clay said hat he accepted as a provision for the reduction of the duties on the part of both

The Democratic senators in caucus today practically reached the conclusion not to offer any amendments to the Cuban reciprocity bill when it is voted on in the Senate next Wednesday. The caucus was called at the instance of the Democratic steering committee, which presented a recground that if offered they and not the bill itself would be made the subject of dis-The caucus was an animated one and was sharply divided on the point at issue, some of the senators contending that numerous amendments against any effort whatever to change the character of the bill and standing for a straight party vote against it. The caucus continued until after the beginning of the regular daily session of the Senate and in the end the committee wen its point. Senator Quarles to-day introduced a bill to further define the duties and powers of the Interstate-commerce Commission. It provides that an order made by the commission after a hearing and determination had on any petition, declaring any, existing rates for the transportation of persons or property to be unjustly discriminating or inreasonable, and declaring what rates would be just, shall become operative and be observed within thirty days after notice. It provides also that in the event of neglect formance thereof may be summarily enprocess besides a penalty of $5,000 for each day of the continuance of such violation.

The President sent to the Senate the following nominations: Assistant treasurer, Thomas J. Akins, of St. Louis, Mo.; col-lector of internal revenue, Edward E. Butler, for the Second district of Tennessee envoy extraordinary and minister plenipo-tentiary to Panama, William I. Buchanan, of New York.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.-The Senate. committee on privileges and elections met to-day to outline a policy in connection with the protests against the retention of his seat by Reed Smoot, of Utah. It was decided that Senator Smoot shall be asked to reply to the charges before any further attention is given to the case:

The specific charge that Mr. Smoot is a polygamist is made by John T. Leilich. The other charges are signed by eighteen citizens of Utah, of whom fourteen are Republicans and four Democrats. A statement has been filed with the committee giving the occupations and other facts concerning the signers. This statement shows them to be men of standing. The charges

House Committee on Postoffices Will Consider the Matter Soon After the Holidays.

Horace Speed.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal. WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.-The committee on postoffices will take up soon after the holidays the question of increased salaries for rural carriers, and the recommendation of the department that an emergency appropriation be allowed as soon as the present funds are exhausted. Numerous petitions are being received from Indiana urging increased salaries for carriers on rural routes, and at least one hundred bills have been presented to Congress for the purpose. There is every reason to believe the carriers will either be granted additional compensation or an allowance for horse hire and equipment. The funds now available for the extension of rural free delivery will be exhausted by the latter part of February. An emergency appropriation will then be made in order that the extension of rural routes shall not be interrupted.

Postmaster General Payne will on Monday forward the Bristow report to the House committee on postoffices. Representative Overstreet has called a meeting of the committee for Tuesday. Consideration will then be given the report and a decision reached as to whether it shall be printed. Chairman Overstreet will comthe coming meeting. NEW YORK, Dec. 12 .- The annual dinner of the Arctic Club, composed of men who have had experience in the Arctic regions, was held to-night, Professor Brewer, of Yale, presiding.

The guest of honor was Walter Wellman, of Washington. Mr. Wellman, in the course of his address, proposed that the Arctic Club itself fit out an expedition to reach the north pole. He suggested that a committee be formed to prepare the plan and select the leaders and the members of the party. He said that if an American citizen of wealth who wished that America should the pole would come forward with the necessary funds, about $100,000, he would turn over to the club his plan for attaining the

"From actual experience in the field, and study and experiment," said the speaker, "I have evolved a plan which is morally certain of securing the trophy for the expedition which uses it. The plan embraces double the traveling effectiveness of a sledging party. With present methods a party can make at the most an average of ten miles a day. By my plan there is no doubt at all that twenty miles a day can be made on an average. The method which I propose is perfectly simple and feasible and will mark as great an advance in sledging as the electric car marked over the horse car. An expedition employing this plan is as sure to reach the pole as a sailing ship is to reach port on a long voyage. That is, barring shipwreck or other Mr. Wellman added that he had no wish

> TOM L. JOHNSON HURRIES TO BEDSIDE OF BROTHER

(CONCLUDED FROM FIRST PAGE.) he left at Cleveland yesterday morning. However, he did not receive it until after he reached home. He started for Indianapolls as soon as he could leave Cleveland and arrived here yesterday evening. He was met at the train by Jay Voss and E. M. Dasher and went at once to the hospital. He was admitted to the room of his brother, but the dying man did not recognize him. Mr. Johnson was much affected and grieved when he realized that his brother's death was probably a question of only a few hours. Later in the night he visited the hospital again.

Considerable difficulty was experienced yesterday in locating the wife and daughter of the sick man. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Miss Fannie McDowell, of this city.
